Message from the Managing Director

India's chemical industry currently has a 7% share of the country's GDP. Even as the industry continues to grow at a steady rate of 14% annually, the consumption of specialty chemicals is low compared to the global consumption average in the US, Europe and China.

For the year 2013-14, I am pleased to report that our Company has delivered an outstanding performance, even as the external business environment continued to face challenges.

Dear Shareholders,

Identifying the right way forward is critical for VOL at this stage of its corporate evolution. The reason is that the world is now moving towards broad-based recovery after years of recession and fragile growth. Now is the opportune moment for VOL to step into a higher growth trajectory on the strength of its right capacity, enriched product mix and empowered team. The industrial scenario also appears to be encouraging. Therefore, the need of the hour is to widen our products portfolio, strengthen our level of integration and reach more customers with value-added products.

India's chemical industry currently has a 7% share of the country's GDP. Even as the industry continues to grow at a steady rate of 14% annually, the consumption of specialty chemicals is low compared to the global consumption average in the US, Europe and China. Speciality chemicals are poised to become one of the fastest growing industrial segments in the coming years, supported by enhanced investments in the recent past. Besides, the $136-billion industry is also expected to strengthen its competitive edge in crucial industrial segments, such as agrochemicals and pharmaceuticals.

For the year 2013-14, I am pleased to report that our Company has delivered an outstanding performance, even as the external business environment continued to face challenges. We delivered a consecutive 11th year of growth in revenues, backed by 25% growth in the bottom line. Our cash flow continued to be impressive, with ₹ 11,047 Lacs of free cash as on 31st March, 2014.

While our financial performance continued to be robust, several others factors played a key role in ensuring that we move forward:

- ▶ Our backward integration into manufacturing IB has resulted in better cost savings.
- ▶ We successfully completed our ATBS capacity expansion target, reaching 26,000 TPA. This would allow us to meet the growing global demands and expand our market share consistently.
- ▶ Our process innovation through de-bottlenecking and with minimal capex has also led to our emergence as the largest global manufacturer of IBB with a 16,000-TPA capacity
- ▶ We have made regular investments towards enhancing our R&D capabilities to develop breakthrough products for our Company.

- ▼ We continued to dominate the international markets with exports contributing to more than 65% of revenues and an established presence in more than 22 countries around the world.

Our winning strategy

Even with the currently fluctuating business environment, we remain focused on our strategies for growth. Given the expected improvement in the global economy, we are poised to benefit from the following initiatives:

Capacity addition: We proactively expanded the capacities of our integrated value-chain of products. The fact that we have achieved a significant portion of this capacity expansion through process innovations and de-bottlenecking, with reduced capital investment, makes the whole scenario all the more encouraging.

New products: In the recent past, we have expanded our product basket, from 5 products in 2009 to 14 currently. Backed by a research-driven approach, our new products like IB & HPMTBE today make up more than 15% of our revenue share.

Improved product mix: We continue to make significant progress on improving our product mix. While ATBS and IBB currently comprise more than 70% of our revenues, we expect to leverage IB, along with other new products, to further strengthen our product mix.

Operational excellence: We continued with our cost optimization processes, laying emphasis on maximum capacity utilization. We have been successful in realising our economies of scale, adapting to the latest technologies and enhancing the value proposition of our products globally.

Marketing: We expect to strengthen customer relationships, widen our geographic presence and manufacture more value-added products. We expect the expansion in capacities of downstream industries by global companies to result in a surge in revenues in the coming years.

Sustainable business model

As part of our long-term strategies, we shall continue to remain focused on mitigating the challenges of the current economic slowdown and the volatility in raw material prices. Growth in productivity continues to be our priority area of focus, backed by an aggressive cost control mechanism. Our process innovations have led to dual benefits of increased productivity and cost savings. In addition, our integrated product portfolio has also resulted in significant cost savings, with one product acting as a raw material for the other.

Accelerate

With our expanded capacities being on stream, we strive to strengthen the relationships with our quality-conscious global customers. We expect our existing products and the new products we plan to introduce in next couple of years to drive revenue streams. We are actively pursuing new geographic frontiers and widening our customer base to strengthen our leadership in our product categories. Our technological initiatives for each product will further contribute to our profitable growth in future.

Meeting stakeholder expectations

As we continue on our journey towards the pursuit of excellence, we remain committed to building a safe and healthy workplace for our team. We have consistently invested in environment-friendly assets, ensuring minimal wastage during our operational procedures. Our expanded capacities, integrated product portfolio, technological competence and financial sustainability are together expected to enhance value for all our stakeholders in the coming years.

Reinforce competitive advantage

Strengthen integration

Enrich product mix

In an industry of niche specialty products, we believe continuous knowledge accretion and intrinsic dynamism can show the way forward. Here is how.

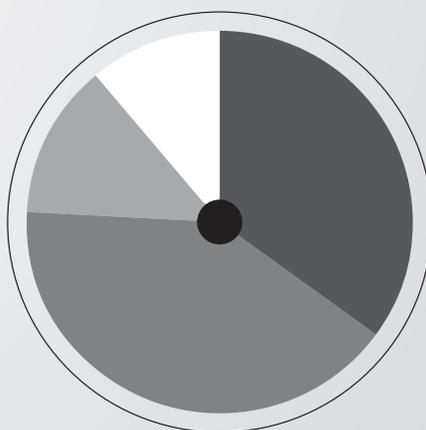

We have also leveraged our product synergies through the manufacture of IB, one of the key raw materials required for ATBS production. At the same time, the raw material used to manufacture IB is also used in the preparation of HP MTBE. This dual benefit of backward integration and raw material synergies improves our operational efficiencies, resulting in cost benefits in the long run.

Apart from the above product innovations in the Speciality Monomers and Aromatics segments, our Industrial Polymers are low cost manufacturing products, which strengthen VOL's revenue ambit. This integrated value-chain of our products and processes comprises one of our major areas of strength.

Our IBB plant was set up in 1992, at a time when the product was not even available in India and was sourced primarily through imports. Today, our 16000TPA capacity plant enables us to address the domestic demand as well as cater to the global market of IBB.

We have consistently expanded our ATBS capacity over the last five years, which has established our position as the largest manufacturer in the world. The gamut of our speciality monomers portfolio is further widened by TBA, a co-product of the ATBS manufacturing process. This enhanced capacity produces economies of scale, resulting in an unparalleled cost-to-value proposition for our customers.

Technological competitiveness

At VOL, we make dedicated and consistent efforts to refine and enhance our product manufacturing technologies. We have the ability to acquire, re-engineer and replicate technologies making it possible for us to reinforce our competitive advantage at a relatively lower cost.

Create
value

Pursue
growth
opportunities

Strengthen capacities

Long-term value can only be created by reinforcing capabilities in a consistent manner, while never missing an opportunity to grow, despite challenges.

40%

VOL's global market share of ATBS

Given that the global demand for IBB is growing at 5% annually, we have undertaken continuous initiatives to expand our capacity in multiple phases. Concurrently, our enhanced product manufacturing knowledge helped us to attain global leadership in our chosen segments.

Similarly, for ATBS, we expanded our capacities in a continuous and timely manner. As the global demand for ATBS continues to witness a 10-15% growth rate, our consistent expansion in capacity has allowed us to emerge as the preferred supplier for the global market.

At VOL, one of our key differentiators comprises in our product value chain. Our R&D team continuously endeavours to create products that not only cater to external demand, but also integrate with our existing portfolios. This helps us to achieve optimal cost efficiencies. In fact, our IB growth story primarily started with the idea of backward integration to achieve cost reduction. Today, we have developed relevant insights to understand the shifting dynamics of the domestic IB market. That, in turn, has enabled us to capture over 70% of the domestic IB market share.

We are under process to commission our 8-MW capacity cogeneration plant using process steam. This will make the Lote plant self-sufficient in terms of its steam as well as power requirements. While we have an integrated business model (forward and backward), we feel captive power generation will further strengthen the value-proposition of our products and result in more savings.

Right Way Forward

Sustain market leadership

Achieve right
chemistry

Develop
resilience

At VOL, we have created a credible track record of combating competition, enhancing core capabilities and emerging as a responsible market leader with a sustainable business blueprint.

₹2000 Lacs

Investments at the Lote plant to ensure zero wastage

While we achieved significant growth by capitalizing on existing opportunities, we also faced multiple challenges along the way.

While China emerged as the leading global supplier of IBB, India happened to be one of its prime dumping destinations. Although we managed to persuade the government to impose the anti-dumping duty, we realized that this was not a sustainable and viable long-term option. That prompted us to improve our processes, rationalize costs and enhance our efficiencies. The results spoke for themselves as we established our position as the largest global manufacturer of IBB, with significant exports to China.

When we initially started our ATBS commercialisation process, we were unable to achieve the optimum quality standards required to market the product. Within a four-year span (from 2002 to 2006), we were able to refine our processes and achieve the right chemistry to create a world-class product that caters to customers in more than 20 countries. In the past eight years, our ATBS product capacity has grown 26 times, with more than 40% share of the total revenue pie.

At VOL, we fought global competition, created integrated processes, expanded our product basket and achieved market leadership in most of our chosen product segments. We have built a resilient business model and continue to focus on innovative technologies, product synergies and operational efficiencies.

At the same time, we always took steps to become a responsible manufacturer and renewed our commitment to help protect the environment. Over the years, we have invested in comprehensive environmental compliances, and rank among some of the few companies in our industry space to record zero waste discharge.

Encourage education > Protect the environment > Widen community care

We believe unlocking long-term value in business is only possible through continuous social engagements.

We are deeply committed to contribute towards social wellbeing through consistent initiatives. We think in a developing society like India there is urgent need to provide educational and healthcare opportunities to the disadvantaged sections of society. Besides, business priorities should be aligned with sustainable environment protection. Therefore, we focus our energies towards encouraging education, providing healthcare support to the vulnerable sections of society and helping protecting the environment. We also take concrete steps to improve the standard of living of our people, along with their families.

Protecting the environment

Management Discussion and Analysis

Global Economic Review

Although the global economy underwent a gradual recovery during FY 2013-14, the pace of growth has been largely uneven and prone to uncertainties. The year also witnessed a marked change in the pattern of recovery, with the advanced economies providing the actual impetus to growth, instead of the developing markets and emerging economies as in earlier years. Developed economies like the US recorded an improved performance, although growth tended to be subdued in the Eurozone. Emerging economies like India, however, witnessed a distinct slowdown in economic growth, even as China held out hope by focusing on a more balanced growth strategy. At the same time, with the growth in advanced economies likely to lead to more export opportunities for the developing ones, the overall economic scenario should be more balanced, going forward.

(Source: CRISIL, January and February, 2014)

Indian Economic Review

After recording robust growth till a few years ago, the pace of the Indian economic juggernaut has slowed down considerably in recent years. In fact, the 4.7% growth in the country's GDP in FY 2013-14 has served as a painful reminder of the sub-5% growth rates witnessed over the last two years. Several factors have contributed to this decline, including low corporate and infrastructure investments, persistent inflation, weak consumer sentiments and policy inertia. However, the formation of a stable government at the Centre should augur well for the future, as a host of fiscal measures and industrial reforms are expected to be implemented to strengthen the economic fundamentals. Combined with a favourable monsoon, these policy initiatives should result in the GDP growth rate crossing the 5%-mark during FY 2014-15.

Industry Snapshot

Global Chemical Industry

Chemicals are an essential part of our modern life and have a wide range of product based applications. In fact, the global chemical output, valued at $171 billion in 1971, is estimated to have increased to about $3.9 trillion value-wise in 2013. The industry faced a number of initial challenges, with the most important ones being in the form of the global meltdown of 2009 and the consequent economic headwinds. However, a series of cost-cutting measures, along with cash management, deleveraging of balance sheets, and divestment of underperforming businesses helped it to counter this scenario.

The volume of global chemical output was expected to increase by 2.4% in 2013 as against 2.7% in 2012. The growth is likely to improve further to 3.8% in 2014, given the improving economic conditions. According to the American Chemistry Council (ACC), the regions that are expected to lead this growth include the Asia Pacific, the Middle East, and Africa. Due to the competitive advantages accruing from shale gas development, North America will also witness slow but steady growth. Strengthening production volumes is likely to improve capacity utilisation in 2014.

Global Speciality Chemicals Market

The global speciality chemicals market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 5.16% over the period 2013 to 2018. One of the key factors contributing to this market growth is the increasing demand for specialty chemicals products in the rapidly developing countries of the APAC region. The global specialty chemicals market has also witnessed an increase in merger and acquisition related activity, as key market players increase their attempts to penetrate the emerging markets. However, the increasingly stringent health and environmental regulations could pose a challenge to the future growth of this market.

Indian Chemical Industry

India's growing per capita consumption and demand for agriculture-related chemicals offers a goldmine of opportunities for the domestic chemicals industry. With an increased focus on improving products and the usage intensity of speciality chemicals, the industry is poised to record strong future growth. The total market size of the domestic chemicals industry is expected to grow from US$ 108 billion in 2011 to US$ 290 billion in 2017.

This segment includes dyes and pigments, leather chemicals, personal care ingredients and other speciality chemicals (excluding pharmaceuticals and agrochemicals). In 2013, the Indian chemical industry earned revenues in the range of US$ 155-160 billion. It is likely to grow further at a rate of 11-12% over the next two to three years.

Characteristics of The Indian Chemical Industry

The Government of India (GOI) has allowed 100 per cent foreign direct investment (FDI) in the Indian chemicals sector and has de-licensed the manufacturing of most chemical products. It is also extending infrastructure support for setting up of petroleum, chemicals and petrochemicals investment regions (PCPIRs) by constructing roads, ports and other similar facilities.

(Source: IBEF)

Indian Specialty Chemicals Market

The specialty chemicals market in India (including knowledge chemicals as active ingredients in agrochemicals and pharmaceuticals) has the potential to grow at a rate of ~15% p.a. to reach USD 40 billion by FY 2014. This growth potential is significantly higher than the projected 3% p.a. growth rate for the global chemical industry or even the 10% p.a. growth rate envisaged for the domestic sector.

(Source: Tata strategic management group).

The Major Growth Drivers Behind India's Chemical Industry can be Listed as Follows:

Structural Advantage

Spurred by a growing market and enhanced purchasing power, the domestic chemical industry is likely to grow at over 10-13% in the coming years. ## Notes to Financial Statements for the year ended 31 March, 2014

1. Significant Accounting Policies

a) Nature of Operations:

The Company was established in 1989 and is engaged in manufacturing of speciality organic intermediates and monomers, namely IBB (Isobutyl Benzene), ATBS (2 Acrylamido 2Methylpropane Sulphonic Acid), NaATBS(Sodium Salt of 2 Acrylamido 2 Methylpropane Sulphonic Acid, Diacetone Acrylamide and Isobutylene. The manufacturing facilities are located at Mahad and Lote Parashuram, Maharashtra.

b) Basis of preparation

The financial statements of the company have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in India (Indian GAAP). The company has prepared these financial statements to comply in all material respects with the accounting standards notified under the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rule, 2006, (as amended) and the relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 1956. The financial statements have been prepared on an accrual basis and under the historical cost convention.

The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of financial statements are consistent with those of previous year.

c) Use of Estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Indian GAAP requires the management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenue, expenses, assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent liabilities, at the end of the reporting period. Although these estimates are based on the management's best knowledge of current events and actions, uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in the outcomes requiring a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets or liabilities in future periods.

d) Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the company and the revenue can be reliably measured. The following specific recognition criteria are met before revenue is recognized:

(i) Sale of goods

Revenue from sale of goods is recognized when all the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods have been passed to the buyer, usually on delivery of the goods. The company collects central sales taxes and value added taxes (VAT) on behalf of the government and, therefore, these are not economic benefits flowing to the company.

Hence, they are excluded from revenue. Excise duty deducted from revenue (gross) is the amount that is included in the revenue (gross) and not the entire amount of liability arising during the year.

(ii) Export entitlement by the way of Duty Draw back is recognised as income of the year on accrual basis. In case of utilisation for Import purpose the same is recognised as raw material cost in the year of import.

(iii) Cenvat/Value Added Tax/Service Tax:

Cenvat/Value Added Tax/Service Tax Benefit is accounted for by reducing the purchase cost of the materials/fixed assets and services wherever credit is eligible.

(iv) Interest

Interest income is recognized on a time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the applicable interest rate. Interest income is included under the head "other income" in the statement of profit and loss.

(v) Dividends

Dividend income is recognized when the company's right to receive dividend is established by the reporting date.

e) Inventories

Raw materials, components, stores and spares are valued at lower of cost and net realizable value. However materials and other items held for use in the production of inventories are not written down below cost if the finished products in which they will be incorporated are expected to be sold at or above cost. Cost of raw materials, components and stores and spares is determined on a first in first out(FIFO) method.

Work-in-progress and finished goods are valued at lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost includes direct materials and labour and a proportion of manufacturing overheads based on normal operating capacity.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

f) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and Cash Equivalents for the purposes of cash flow statement comprise cash at bank and in hand and short term investments with an original maturity of three months or less.
