We often hear the assertion, 'green is good, so let's go green'.

But it sounds a weak defence against green sceptics, especially in a developing economy like India. Sceptics accept the argument about carbon footprints and environmental degradation, but maintain that in a growing economy like ours, there are too many pressing concerns (infrastructure development, healthcare, education, employment generation and corruption) which demand urgent attention and redress; green can wait.

It can't. Environmental issues are no longer topics that well-meaning NGOs fight for, they have moved centre stage, and are high on the agenda of companies, consumers, investors and lawmakers, nationally and internationally.

So what could be the cost for not going green for the Indian economy? If quantified in rupee terms it could well be over Rs 12, 63,000 crores by 2030*, besides irate customers, angry investors and government censure.

As a responsible organisation, Vinati Organics Limited (VOL) has always been at the forefront of the green campaign. It is producing zero waste products by leveraging clean and green technologies. Our aim is to emerge as a globally competitive organisation for all our products in cost and quality, without amplifying the environmental footprint.

We are investing considerably in our research and product development as part of our green journey. So that 'green is not just good', it makes great business sense.

Value creation represents our business imperative, but how it is created is equally important

Reduce, reuse and recycle is the green slogan for business sustainability. But not every product can be recycled. So how do we balance eco-sensitivity with business priorities?

In its drive towards eco-gearred growth, VOL invested considerable time and energy and succeeded in converting the entire balance residual from the ATBS process to get low-cost saleable polymers.

VOL has invested in a new Effluent Processing Plant which comprises of bio treatment & Reverse Osmosis (RO), besides chemical treatment, and has the provision to recycle the water and the residue back in process.

VOL thus goes for a complete Zero Waste production, which substantially contribute to our environment stewardship. Our advanced technologies and state-of-the art manufacturing processes help attain the objective.

We have also received a certificate of Merit for achieving Zero Accident Frequency Rate (2002-2005) & (2007-2009) from National Safety Council - Maharashtra Chapter (Lote Plant), which substantiates our commitment to maintaining the highest standards of safety and health.

Green growth is the new norm

Can we align a green strategy with growth? Or does it impact short-term corporate performance. The debate rages on with full fury. VOL is unperturbed by these controversies, proving a point through sound strategies and sustainable financials.

We have significantly reduced the quantum of waste products and invested in new technology and R&D to enhance cost efficiency and to manufacture environment-friendly products. This emphasis on Zero Waste production has not only helped us in being environment friendly, but has also allowed us to generate new streams of revenue, thus adding to our top line and bottom line.

Our green agenda is not an ad-hoc strategy; we will continue to strengthen our green quotient in line with global standards and norms.

The superior technology and strategic capacity expansion plans made us the world's largest Isobutyl Benzene (IBB) manufacturer, with a 60%-plus global market share.

IBB is the main raw material of Ibuprofen drug. We are also the second largest manufacturer of 2-Acrylamido 2-Methylpropane Sulfonic Acid (ATBS) globally, with over 30% global market share. ATBS is a specialty monomer enjoying several applications, including the manufacture of acrylic fibres, personal care products, water treatment chemicals, enhanced oil recovery chemicals, among others. VOL is listed on the Bombay Stock Exchange and the National Stock Exchange with a market capitalisation of over Rs. 35,000 Lacs.

More products. More customers. More de-risked business model

Although we commenced our journey as a single-product company, we have consistently invested in diversifying our product portfolio, to enhance visibility, evolve a de-risked business model and accelerate growth.

In 2002, VOL diversified into the manufacture of ATBS/NaATBS and became only the third company in the world to do so. The product portfolio was further expanded with the inclusion of TBA, increasing product offerings for customers.

The conversion of the entire waste stream from the ATBS process gave us the opportunity to add to our product portfolio in the form of low-cost saleable polymers.

To fortify its position in ATBS, VOL executed a backward integration project for the manufacture of IB, one of the key raw materials for ATBS. The IB plant (12000 MT), India's largest, has commenced production from June 2010. The IB plant fully satisfies the captive requirement and also adds to the turnover of the Company with the rest of the production being sold in the open market.

VOLs product portfolio comprises IBB, ATBS/NaATBS, IB, TBA, Industrial Polymers and is going to be further enriched with the expected commissioning of the DAAM plant in FY12.

Managing Director's communiqué

The writing on the wall is clear: Green is non-negotiable, whether you consider it as a quick response to an imminent threat (global warming, climate change) or a nascent business opportunity.

Dear Shareholders',

Before I apprise you about our annual performance in 2010-11, it is imperative that I share a few words about our conviction in green growth. In a post-recessionary world, we believe, a green strategy is going to fuel new growth and opportunities globally. In fact, advanced countries of the world are aggressively pursuing green growth, defying temporary challenges. Even in India, green awareness is steadily rising, and discerning consumers and investors are embracing brands with green strategies and investments.

The writing on the wall is clear: Green is non-negotiable, whether you consider it as a quick response to an imminent threat (global warming, climate change) or a nascent business opportunity.

During the past year, the global economy has demonstrated some definite signs of recovery, although the effects of global financial meltdown can still be felt. The Indian economy has grown steadily, registering 8.6% growth in the past year, and has the potential to cross 9% in 2011-12.

VOL has once again delivered robust performance on the operational front. Our Net Income grew by 36% to reach Rs. 31,688 Lacs and PAT grew by a healthy 30% to reach Rs. 5,197 Lacs. For VOL, 2010-11 was significant, as we commissioned our IB plant in June 2010 and ended the year with ATBS sales exceeding 11,000 MT. Going ahead, we are further expanding our ATBS facility, which would make us the largest manufacturer globally in ATBS as well.

In addition to the ATBS expansion we are also setting up a 1,000 MT DAAM plant. This would entail a capital investment of Rs. 10,000 Lacs and is being funded through US$ 16 million of finance from International Finance Corporation and rest through internal accruals.

The spectacular growth achieved by your Company has been acknowledged and appreciated in the form of multiple awards and recognitions we have won in the previous year:

➤ Awarded the Business Leader of the Year (Innovation) by CHEMTECH CEW Leadership & Excellence Awards 2011

➤ Forbes Asia listed VOL amongst 200 Best Under A Billion companies for 2010

➤ VOL was ranked amongst the Top 10 Fastest Growing Companies in India for the Year 2010 by The Economic Time Intelligence Group January 2011); We were ranked amongst the Top 10 in 2009 as well

➤ VOL was ranked #7 amongst the Top 100 Fastest Growing Small Companies in India by The Economic Times Intelligence Group (September 2010); We were ranked #14 in 2009

➤ Certificate of Merit for achieving Zero Accident Frequency Rate (2007-2009) received from National Safety Council - Maharashtra Chapter (Lote Plant)

Our business has an enormous growth prospect and we shall continue investing to tap the growth opportunities. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all our stakeholders – shareholders, clients, suppliers, banks, financial institutions and most importantly our employees, for having supported us all these years in our quest for global leadership and eco-gearred growth.

Right chemistry to grow

Right products. Right customers. Right niche. This chemistry has accelerated VOL's growth since inception. It has strategically selected to be associated with top brands, manufacturing products with high-growth potential.

ATBS has been and will continue to be a high growth segment. This conviction is based on some ground-breaking research being conducted on ATBS-based polymers in the energy sector. With the augmented capacity of 18,000 MT due to be completed by FY12, VOL will be able to cater to the increasing demand.

IB, primarily being manufactured for captive consumption is also expected to increase its share in the sales mix. The backward integration into IB allows VOL a competitive advantage over its other competitors. Besides, we sell our products directly to the end users, without any intermediation. This strategy strengthens the business model.

FUTURE ROADMAP

During FY12, VOL would be completing its planned capital investment of Rs. 10,000 Lacs, through significant expansion of its ATBS, TBA and Industrial polymers capacity and with the commissioning of the new DAAM plant. The expansion of ATBS capacity and launch of DAAM will expedite growth, whereas forward integration (with the manufacture of polymers based on VOL's monomer) will lead to uninterrupted operations.

Besides, VOL is planning to set up a new captive co-generation power plant, subject to the approval from the government. In addition, we are also concentrating on pilot projects for the manufacture of new drug intermediaries.

Management Discussion and Analysis

ECONOMY OVERVIEW

The global economy which had witnessed negative growth during 2009-10 managed a smart recovery during 2010-11. The extent of recovery varied across countries with the emerging markets once again putting in a better performance and pullback as compared to the developed economies. India along with China and Brazil clocked in impressive growth over the last year. This growth has improved the business sentiments but there are still points of worry in the nature of economic instability in a few countries of Europe and political unrest in the Middle East.

The Indian economy has shown notable ability with which it has faced the global financial crisis. As per the Central Statistics Office (CSO), there are clear indications that the Indian economy is well and truly on its way to attaining the growth which was seen prior to the global financial crisis. As per the Advanced Estimates of the CSO, the Indian economy has clocked in an impressive 8.6% growth in 2010-11. This growth is attributed to a strong rebound in agriculture and the sustained growth in the manufacturing sector. Based on the performance of the economy over the last five years and analysis of the underlying trends, India's real GDP is expected to grow by 9% in 2011-12. (Source: CSO)

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

The chemical industry as a whole managed a smart recovery in 2010-11 on the back of improved business environment triggered by a stronger global economy. According to Moody's Investors Service, the sector outlook for the chemical industry in North America and Europe has changed from negative to stable reflecting a marked improvement in the industrial demand across these regions.

The global chemical industry is valued at about US$3400 billion. The total size of Indian chemical industry is estimated to be around US$ 83 billion and is ranked 12th in world. While the Indian chemical industry has been recognised for its competitiveness in cost and quality it is yet to make its presence felt in a big way in the international markets.

Though the global chemical industry took a nosedive due to the global economic slowdown, the Indian chemical industry has been resilient and has been able to recover faster mainly due to strong domestic demand. The Indian chemical industry is expected to reach US$130 billion by 2015. A growing economy, low per capital chemical consumption and growing middle class are some of the key drivers for sustained demand growth in end-use industries.

COMPANY OVERVIEW

Incorporated in 1989, Vinati Organics Limited (VOL) has been manufacturing specialty organic intermediaries and monomers. It is listed on Bombay Stock Exchange and National Stock Exchange and has over 400 employees.

VOL is the world's largest manufacturer of Isobutylbenzene (IBB). It began commercial production of IBB at its factory in Mahad, Maharashtra in 1992, based on technology from the renowned Institut Francais du Petrole (IFP) in France. It has since expanded its capacity in phases to 14,000 MT and supplies to all major Ibuprofen manufacturers globally.

VOL is also the second largest manufacturer of 2-Acrylamido 2-Methylpropane Sulfonic Acid (ATBS) in the world. It began commercial production of ATBS at its plant in Lote Parashuram, Maharashtra in 2002, based on technology sourced from the National Chemical Laboratories, Pune. It has since expanded its capacity to 12,000 MT.

VOL commissioned its Isobutylene (IB) plant, the largest in India, in June 2010, with a capacity of 12,000 MT.

IBB

IBB is a high-value specialty chemical, widely used as an intermediate in the preparation of Ibuprofen, an anti-inflammatory/anti-arthritic/analgesic medicine for pain management. Ibuprofen is primarily manufactured in India, China and the USA. IBB is also used in the perfumery industry.

2-ACRYLAMIDO-2-METHYLPROPANE SULFONIC ACID (ATBS), SODIUM SALT OF ATBS (NA-ATBS), N-TERT-BUTYLACRYLAMIDE (TBA)

These specialty monomers have wide applications and mainly in oil-field recovery, water treatment, acrylic fiber manufacturing, adhesives and personal care products. They are also used in mining industry, coatings and as dispersing and flocculating agents. A major potential application for the monomer is for Enhanced Oil Recovery (EOR). With the big increase in oil prices, many major companies are in the process of developing these projects. ATBS is a specialty monomer used in oilfield and mining chemicals, water-treatment, acrylic fiber, personal care, emulsions and adhesives, among others. The global demand of ATBS is growing at 10-15% annually, due to increased usage of the specialty monomer. There are very few manufacturers of these products world-wide. Demand for ATBS in India is at present very limited. A major portion of the production in India is exported. The main destinations for exports are Europe, America and other Asian countries. At present, there are only 3 manufacturers of ATBS in the world.

IB

Isobutylene (IB) is a hydrocarbon of significant industrial importance. It is used as an intermediate in the production of variety of products. The output from the IB plant is being used for captive consumption, as raw material for ATBS, as well as domestic sales.

IBB, which used to form 57% of our sales mix in 2008-09 has now dropped to 33% in 2010-11 and ATBS/NaATBS/TBA now constitute 57% of the sales mix. This change in the sales mix has resulted in better margins for the company.

STRENGTHS & OPPORTUNITIES

At VOL, our business is driven by 4 important philosophies:

- Enter into niche products with technological entry barrier
- The technology should be clean and green
- Be globally competitive for all our products in quality and cost
- Benefit all stakeholders, foremost being the environment

We aim to be the top 3 global manufacturers in each of our products.

The growth and global leadership that has been achieved by VOL, since its incorporation in 1989, has been truly commendable. Today VOL is one of India's leading manufacturers and exporters of specialty organic intermediaries, monomers and polymers.

We have global leadership in 2 of our main products, IBB and ATBS. In IBB, we are the world's largest player in both capacity and market share. We command over 60% of the global market share of IBB and are running with a capacity of 14,000 MT.

In ATBS, we are the 2nd largest manufacturer in the world, with a global market share of over 30%. We are running at a capacity of 12,000 MT and are soon to become the largest in the world with the expansion of the capacity to 18,000 MT.

The global leadership in both these products is a result of consistent focus and drive on high-end technology and operational efficiency.

We at VOL believe that going ahead the ATBS segment shall be growing at a robust rate. The ATBS demand world over has been increasing at 10-15% p.a. and VOL has been growing at more than 30% in the ATBS market. There is significant research being done on polymers based on ATBS for applications in Energy sector. Some of this research is at pilot scale implementation. With success of this application the EOR business is expected to grow exponentially, resulting in significant increase in demand for ATBS. The commercialisation of these technologies is expected 2012 / 2013 onwards.

We had doubled the ATBS capacity from 5,000 to 10,000 MT in May 2009 and further expanded it to 12,000 MT in the previous year through some debottlenecking. Considering the robust growth of the world-wide ATBS market, we are now expanding it further to 18,000 MT. We shall also expand the capacity of TBA to 1,000 MT and that of ATFE Bottom Polymers (Industrial Polymers) to 4,500 MT. All the expansions are expected to be completed by the end of FY12.

In June 2010, VOL backward integrated itself with the commissioning of its 12,000 MT (IB) plant. This puts VOL on a higher footing vis-à-vis its other competitors in the ATBS market, as none of the other competitors are backward integrated in IB. The Company expects to enjoy a competitive advantage through this backward integration as it has ensured the supply of one of its major raw materials to cater the growing demand of ATBS.

In addition to the above expansions, we are also setting up a new plant of Di-Acetone Acrylamide (DAAM) with a capacity of 1,000 MT and this is expected to be commissioned by December 2011.

The total capital expenditure to be completed during FY12 is to the tune of Rs. 10,000 Lacs and is being funded with US$16 million of finance from International Finance Corporation, Washington, in the form of US$5 million FCCB (convertible @ Rs. 100 per share) and US$ 11 million ECB. The balance is being funded through internal accruals. These expansions and the new product shall add significantly to the top line and bottom line of the Company.

Our quest for using clean and green technology has not only allowed us to be environment friendly but has also added to the bottom-line of the Company. Both our plants are zero effluent plants.

INTERNAL CONTROL

The Company's appropriate internal control systems for business processes, with regard to efficiency of operations, financial reporting, compliance with applicable laws and regulations ensure that all assets are protected against losses and unauthorised use. It also has an adequate system, commensurate with its size and nature of operations.

All operating parameters are complied with and controlled. Regular internal audits and checks ensure that responsibilities are executed efficiently. No significant internal control lapses were identified.

The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors actively reviews the adequacy and effectiveness of internal control systems and suggests improvement for strengthening them from time to time. The Audit Committee of the Board met four times during the period.

HUMAN RESOURCES

As on 31st March, 2011, Vinati Organics Limited had 423 employees, compared with 382 employees as on 31st March, 2010.

We encourage employees to be entrepreneurial and think from the perspective of a stakeholder in the company. At VOL, we thus promote and compensate employees, solely based on how proactive they are in taking up responsibility, the quality of their work and their contribution to the Company.

RISK REVIEW

As it is with any business, VOL's financial results are influenced by the business environment in which we operate. VOL's risk exposures are mitigated and managed by management's strategy for handling risks within the business. While the management of VOL assesses the risks and takes comprehensive steps to pre-empt, manage and control, and all the productive assets are insured, some of the risks are reviewed.

Growth

The global economy, which was in the throes of recession, has now shown signs of recovery and is on the way to regain the growth levels that were seen prior to the global financial crisis. The global chemical industry, in particular, has shown a smart pullback in the previous year, with growth seen in the Asian and American markets. Lower than expected growth could affect the business fortunes.

VOL is geared up for growth and has invested in assets aimed at capacity expansion to meet the growing demand of its products. Moreover, VOL's products are specialty chemicals so their demand is not very correlated to global growth.

Competition Amongst Existing Firms

VOL has global oligopoly in two of the main products it manufactures. The Company also enters into contracts with its clients to counter this risk and with the demand for its products looking good, your Company is confident of maintaining its leadership position.

Product Substitution

The products manufactured by VOL are specialty chemicals used for specific purposes. There are no known substitutes available for these products as such.

Margin Risks

The main raw materials to manufacture IBB and ATBS are petroleum products and hence their prices are linked to crude oil prices. Volatility in crude prices could lead to margin pressures.

The Company has hedged itself against such risk through contracts wherein the prices are benchmarked against the crude prices. The price escalation, depending on products, can vary from monthly to quarterly basis. But in case of spot sales, margins could be affected if we are not able to pass on the price increase in raw materials.

In case of IBB, oversupply due to increased global capacity could lead to some pressures on margins. We have already reduced the dependence of IBB in the sales mix and further we are working on producing new products from the same plant which will spread the overheads and reduce the burden on IBB

Raw Materials

VOL has taken leadership role in ensuring supply of one of its major raw material through setting up of the IB plant. The other major raw materials required are easily available, both locally and internationally. Further, VOL also enters into annual contract with its suppliers to protect itself from the vagaries of price and for constancy of supply.

Environment

One of the guiding philosophies of VOL is the use of clean and green technology. Both our plants are zero effluent and VOL takes a pro-active role in the adoption of the latest technology in furthering the quest towards an eco-geared growth.

Foreign Exchange

The Company's revenues are largely generated from exports and hence denominated in foreign currency, predominantly US$. Given the nature of business, a large proportion of the costs are denominated in Indian rupees (INR), leading to currency exposure.

The company procures raw materials through import and local purchases, where local purchases track import parity price. Also, contracts entered into with customers have provision to share the forex risk. Further, the long term loans of the Company are all in US$ terms and this acts as a natural hedge.

Technology

A technology-intensive business like that of VOL could attract technology obsolescence and expensive overhaul.
